

I was thinking about the Holidays and all.

I discovered that I like the sad Xmas songs.. the one's that sound like Tom Waits should have been the first one to record them (LIVE-- XMAS FROM THE KABITZ ROOM!). "Have Yourself a Merry Little Xmas," "I'll Be Home For Xmas," "Auld Lang Syne," and "Fairytale in New York" are all songs to play while you have one of those Holiday accidents that involve an open oven and "forgetting" to light the pilot.

Jesus, CP Lighten Up!

Regardless of all the weirdness that is today's world.. (an economy crashing, the battle of empty promises between the blue wimps and red meatheads,) if you can actually read this message on your $1500+ computer.. you are doing okay.

So everyone, let's listen to words of the prophet -- JOEY RAMONE's "It's a Wonderful World!"

Now hit Read More!

Video Pick of the Week JOEY RAMONE

Written by Administrator
